Integration Pathways

Autonomous

Entirely separate and outside of formal health care systems.

Allied

Formally recognised and practicing alongside health care providers, although employed independently.

Amalgamated

Directly employed by health authorities, either within or across health care settings.

Assimilated

Diffused within existing health and social care roles, through specialised training.